The

Barossa Valley

The task of foraging the picturesque landscape of the Barossa for unique wines to complement Saskia Beer's exciting new food journey has been a challenging one. The standard of winemaking in the Barossa is exceptional and we have been somewhat overwhelmed by choice for wines of distinctive character and pedigree.

Shiraz from the Barossa Valley already enjoys a reputation for which we are all proud custodians of and enjoy sharing with visitors travelling from interstate and overseas. Whether there celebrating old vine stock centuries old, new oak barrels sourced from one of our local cooperages or a new young gun 'knocking off' the old hand at the Barossa Wine show.

One thing is for sure that when a glass of Barossa Shiraz is put in front of you, the depth of character, generosity of flavour and boldness tells you it's of Barossa ilk.

The Cellar Kitchen offers a detailed list of Shiraz exploring every corner of its 8,000 hectares under vine, creating opportunities to un-earth new discoveries, re-visit icons and learn about the unique sub-regions of the Barossa.

This carefully considered wine list restrains from being loud and ostentatious yet delivers the rich tapestry of the Barossa landscape, a thoughtful selection that pays homage to the spiritual home of the varietals and above all offers an enhanced dining experience.

SPARKLING

"The art of blending sparkling wine is one that can only be mastered by perfecting the craft, patience to allow the wine to mature at its own pace and the experience to know when it is at its best." — Ed Carr

"From the outset, quality was the key watchword for the partners in this new entity formed in 1827, and it has remained so for all of their successors. This approach would be encapsulated in the motto penned by Georges Hermann Mumm: 'Only the best'".

"Pinot Gris and Pinot Grigio are in fact the exact same grape variety. It is a white grape, with a grayish / pink skin. Gris is 'gray' in French which stylistically more full-bodied, richer, spicier, and gently textured. Whereas Grigio is typically lighter-bodied, crisp, fresh, with vibrant stone fruit and floral aromas."

CHARDONNAY

"The most famous wine variety of all! So powerful is the C-word on a wine label that, like Cabernet Sauvignon, Chardonnay has virtually no synonyms. 'Chardonnay' became a name more familiar to the world's wine buyers than any of the geographically-named wines this vine variety had for centuries produced, such as Chablis, Corton-Charlemagne, or Montrachet. When the emerging New World wine industries introduced varietal labelling - calling wines by the name of their principal grape variety - it was Chardonnay that made the most friends."

PINOT NOIR

"Pinot Noir is the most highly prized wine in the world. It's not as rich or big as its noble cousins; in fact it's quite the opposite. Pinot Noir wines are pale in color, translucent and their flavors are very subtle. Typical seductive characters include earth, faint floral smells of roses, violet and fruit that leans towards raw, freshly picked cherries. Its perfume, outright silkiness on the palate with a peacock's tail finish is what all the aficionados are searching for, for this character can be elusive. It's like finding the 'Holy Grail' in a bottle of wine!"

BAROSSA RED BLENDS - GSM

"The 'GSM' red blend is made from Grenache, Syrah and Mourvèdre and it's a classic from the Côtes du Rhône region. There are 19 different grapes used in Côtes du Rhône and Chateauneuf-du-Pape wines. Fortunately, of the 19 varieties, there are really just 3 varieties that define the style. These varieties are Grenache, Syrah and Mourvèdre (Mataro) – they hold the secret to Côtes du Rhône wine."

"Like a highly skilled 'Mad Scientist', a GSM blend of the years harvest is crafted using different percentages of each grape variety depending on the bounty. Some of the best examples in the Barossa & Eden Valley are from winemakers who's control over the taste profile of a wine shows finesse and delicacy."

CABERNET SAUVIGNON

The great distinction of Cabernet Sauvignon is it produces a very powerful and recognisable aroma of blackcurrants wherever it is grown and, if matured in newish oak, can smell of cedar, cigar boxes and, sometimes, tobacco. Cabernet Sauvignon is also deep purple in youth colour, while it is not especially alcoholic, it can be extremely long-lived. This is because Cabernet Sauvignon's small, thick-skinned grapes have a very high ratio of solids rich in colouring matter and tannins to juice. Bordeaux in France is the spiritual home of this variety with Barossa possessing similar cool climate aspects in its valleys and hills.
